REWARD FOR INFORMATION

Gov. Willson Plans to Block Raids Before They Are Well Started.

PEACEFUL ARMIES ALSO

Russellville Raid Was Only Organized to Intimidate Hopkinsville Witnesses.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6.—Gov. Willson was in this morning of the raid on Russellville, and immediately prepared a typewritten statement concerning the affair, in which he offers a reward of $500 for any information given in advance of a contemplated raid by "night riders" or the so-called "peaceful armies." This is a new feature in the case, and the Governor expects that it will prevent more troubles like the attacks on Princeton, Hopkinsville and Russellville.

In the statement the Governor declares that not only the night riders, but the peaceful armies as well, are acting in violation of the law, and he declares that every effort in the state will be used in power to stop the reign of lawlessness, in the tobacco regions.

The Governor in strong terms denounces as cowards and criminals, not only the members of the bands which operate at night, destroying property in the towns and country, but he also declares that if the law is to be upheld the "peaceful armies" must be stopped as well.

"The Russellville raid was clearly a violation of the promises made by the managers of the associations in that part of the State, and was made to hinder the prosecution at Hopkinsville by intimidating the officials and witnesses." The only result will be to add more crimes and new criminals, guilty of open felonies similar to those at Hopkinsville and Princeton, and to make it harder for the tobacco growers in that region even to get living prices for their tobacco; to further disgrace the State, inflict further immense destruction of values of farms and all property in that district, to destroy the tobacco market there, to oppress and grieve the people and take away their liberties and to shake their faith in the protection of the laws and to force capital and valuable immigration to shun Kentucky, and all this without the least hope or chance to help the men who formed these conspiracies, or any of their tobacco.

MEANS MORE CRIMES.

"It simply means more crime, more criminals, more who will have to go to the penitentiary and more disgrace to Kentucky, more distress to all of the people there, more heavy expense to be paid out by the people as tax money for protection of their liberties and constitutional rights, more burdens on the law-abiding majority, more destruction of property values, and more ruin to the market for tobacco and all other produce of that district, and more thousands of the flower of Kentucky citizenship leaving Kentucky to seek homes where the laws protect and KKK are unknown. At the end it means the penitentiary for the infamous men who formed this conspiracy and for many of their dupes, for though their associations number thousands, the law-abiding, law-loving people number hundreds of thousands, and there can be no possible hope that the KKK can govern Kentucky and a possible escape from punishment when, as surely must come to pass, in a short time, the full extent of the crime and hurt is revealed, and the consciences and faith of the people resume control and restore the full and irresistible power of the people's law."

EVERY POWER OF LAW.

"Meaning every power of the law."

RUSSELLVILLE'S RECENT RAID

Planned Very Much Like the One Here December 7.

MARCHED ON FOOT.

Crowd Was Small; Some Estimates Putting the Number at 50.

Russellville, Ky., Jan. 6.—The raid here last Friday morning was shortly after midnight. The night riders were not on horseback when the attack began. The night policeman attempting to ring the fire alarm, after striking the bell three times, heard a nearby voice say "stop that racket." Looking around he gazed down the muzzles of two Winchester held by masked men. He was ordered to hold up his hands and make no further attempt at an alarm.

The night riders were evidently thoroughly drilled and under experienced lieutenants, as guards and patrols were stationed at every vantage point in town before the citizens knew of their presence and before the signal was given for the firing of the factories.

Miss McQuilkan, night operator for the Home Telephone Company, requested the guards who prevented her from manipulating the board to allow her to answer her mother, who was frantically ringing for her. They allowed her to state to her mother that she was in no danger, but would allow no further conversation. After accomplishing their purposes they marched in military formation around to where they had placed pickets, picking them up as they went. After firing the American Snuff Company's factory they marched through the center of town in two lines extending across the street, with eight file closers in the rear walking backward with ready guns.

HUNG JURY IN POWERS CASE

Stood Ten For Acquittal and Two For Conviction.

WILL ASK FOR PARDON.

Bail Is Denied and Fifth Trial Set For July 6.

Georgetown, Ky., Jan. 5.—The jury in the Powers case was unable to agree on a verdict and was discharged by Judge Morris, who overruled a motion for bail and fixed July 6 as the date for the next trial. The jury stood ten for acquittal and two for conviction. Powers' friends and attorneys have taken steps toward requesting a pardon from Gov. Willson, and a long telegram was sent the Chief Executive, informing him how the jury stood. It is said petitions will be circulated throughout Kentucky and the United States in the hope that thousands of persons will sign, asking Gov. Willson to issue a pardon. Ten of the jurors signed an affidavit stating that from the evidence they do not believe Jim Howard fired the shot that killed Gov. Goebel.

BORN IN HOPKINSVILLE

Bernard H. Pryor Dies in Paducah.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 4.—Mr. Bernard Hooe Pryor, 85 years old, of this county, died of general debility after a lingering illness. A short time ago he fell unconscious in his barn, and had been failing steadily since. Mr. Pryor was born in Hopkinsville, Ky. He removed to Trigg county, and was connected with the great Hillman iron furnaces for some time. In 1857 he came to Paducah, and had lived in this vicinity since. Fifty years ago he married Miss Laura Cole, of Paducah, and she survives him.

"The Lunatic and the Lady"

Among the season's greatest successes is Melville B. Raymond's dancing, prancing musical comedy, "The lunatic and the Lady," which comes to Holland's opera house tonight. One of the special features of the performance is Miss Oyette, the world's greatest toe dancer, who was brought from Europe in September 1907 by Mr. Raymond under a five year contract to appear with his attractions.

BURLEY POOL DEAL IS OFF

American Tobacco Co., Makes Offer For One Sixth Of It.

THE OFFER IS REFUSED

Another Conference With The Gov. and Pres. Duke to be Waited Upon.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6.—At a conference between Gov. Willson, R. K. Smith and H. A. Walker, representing the American Tobacco Company held in the Governor's office Saturday, Mr. Smith agreed to arrange a meeting between the Executive Committee of the Burley Tobacco Society and President James B. Duke, of the American Tobacco Company. State Senator J. W. Newman has prepared a resolution which will be introduced on the first day of the coming session of the General Assembly for the appointment of a committee of seven members to investigate the tobacco conditions thoroughly and report the causes for the recent discomfiture.

The conference at Frankfort followed the refusal of the Society of Equity to accept Mr. Smith's offer of 12 cents for 10,000,000 pounds of the Burley pool of 60,000,000 pounds. The tobacco is being held at 15 cents. The negotiations were broken off because Mr. Smith had no authority to buy the whole pool. It is believed that the price might have been accepted if the offer had been for the entire pool. Burley tobacco sold Saturday in the Lexington market at $10.38.

BIG TOBACCO PURCHASE

American Buys 3,000,000 of Green River Association.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 6.—The American Tobacco Company Saturday closed a deal with the Green River District Association, a branch of the American Society of Equity, for 3,000,000 pounds of tobacco. This is the third purchase made by the American from the Green River Association, the two other purchases being of 3,000,000 and 600,000 pounds, respectively, making a total of 6,600,000 pounds recently purchased from this organization.

Sale Record Broken.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 4.—From a recapitulation made to-day, it is shown that the white burley tobacco sold this week on the local breaks, broke the world's record for loose leaf stuff, 1,800,000 pounds selling for an average of $10.38 per hundred. The best previous record was made here the week before Christmas when 1,460,500 pounds sold at an average of $10.10.

DINNER

Given to the People of the Anderson & Co.'s Stores.

Acknowledgment of the efficiency of the people connected with the big stores of J. H. Anderson & Co. was made by Mr. Jno. H. Bell, of the firm, last Saturday in the way of a big dinner, at his home on East Seventh street. There were about 20 at the table. The menu was everything that could be desired and Mr. Bell was declared the prince of hosts. Plans for the business of 1908 were discussed and the occasion altogether was most delightful.

On Road to Recovery.

The many friends of Mrs. Pauline G. Lander will learn with much pleasure that she is now rapidly recovering.

I TAKE this means of thanking my friends and customers for their liberal patronage during the past year, and wish them all a happy and prosperous New Year.

Respectfully,

T. M. Jones.

WRITES TO JUDGE COOK Urges That The Investigation be as Searching as Possible.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 2-Gov. Willson to-day addressed a letter to Circuit Judge Thomas P. Cook at Hopkinsville, in which he expressed the belief that Judge Cook would do his duty during the present term of court faithfully and usefully, notwithstanding the fact that the duty would be an unpleasant one under the existing circumstances. The Governor assured Judge Cook that he gave no credit to the thoughtless talk being indulged in by some that the officials of the court would not do their full duty in the investigation of the raid on Hopkinsville.

He said there was no doubt that several hundred men were guilty of a felony under the Klu Klux act and of a conspiracy to commit arson and of shooting with intent to kill. He said the act was a calamity to the state, district and to Christian county, the full extent of which will not be counted for years to come. He said that the crime admitted of no defense and would not admit of any hesitation of the authorities to condemn it.

Gov. Willson pleaded with Judge Cook for the most earnest, serious and unyielding effort on the part of himself and the Commonwealth's Attorney for the apprehension and indictment of the guilty, but asked for an absolutely fair and impartial investigation of everyone on trial. The Governor further assured Judge Cook that he had done all he could do to uphold the law and sustain the court, and that he would continue to do so, but that, on the other hand, he would be faithful to his duty in the consideration of the condition of the investigation.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ail and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Hopkinsville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

J. W. Pritchett, 752 E. Seventh street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says:

"Four years ago Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at L. A. Johnson & Co's. drug store brought me such great relief that I was glad to tell the people of Hopkinsville my experience with the remedy. Before using them, pains existed in my kidneys and in the back which caused me a great deal of annoyance. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised so highly that I concluded to try them. They proved to be an excellent remedy, relieving me of the aching in my back and helping me in other ways. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and I am sure if people who have kidney trouble will use them according to directions they will be satisfied with the results obtained."

KILAUEA WORTH A VISIT.

Hawaii's Show Volcano Is One of the World's Wonders.

Kilauea, the spur of the great Mauna Loa, is a well-behaved volcano. It can be visited with perfect safety, even if it erupts—as it is from time to time—when exhibitions of activity are given that are worth traveling thousands of miles to witness. The volcano is on the island of Hawaii, and the shortest possible trip that can be made to it from Honolulu covers four days. This allows only four days of the volcano, which is much too short a time to study the workings of what is considered one of the world's wonders. A week at least should be given to the trip. The sea voyage is always more or less rough, but the boats, although small, are comfortable. From Hilo, where the water trip ends, there is a railroad ride of about 15 miles through the big Oia sugar plantation. This is followed by a stage run of 11 miles over a road leading through a perfect fairyland of tropical foliage, the highway being lined on either side with roses, magnolias and ferns, which last grow to the size of trees without losing any of their delicate beauty. Returning from the other route, there is a stage drive of 35 miles over lava roads and across the great flow which ran into the sea from Mauna Loa several years ago.—Leslie's Weekly.

TREES THAT LIVE CENTURIES.

One at Least Is Known to be Over 700 Years Old.

Brazilian coconut palms live from 600 to 700 years, and the Arabs assert that the date palm frequently reaches the age of 200 to 300 years. Wallia's oak, near Paisley, Scotland, is known to be over 700 years old, and there are eight olive trees on the Mount of Olives near Jerusalem which are known to have been flourishing in Israel. The yews at Fontaine Abbey, Yorkhire, were old trees when in 1132 the abbey was built, and a redwood in Mariposa Grove, Cal., is a manifold centenarian. The baobab trees of Africa have been computed to be over 5,000 years old, and the deciduous cypress at Chapultepec is considered to be of a still greater age. Humboldt said that the dracena dioica at Orotava, on Tenerife, was one of the oldest inhabitants of the earth.

Hugo Wrote for All.

I wrote for all; with a profound love for my country, but after of presentiments of humanity. Besides, this is the tendency of our epoch, the law of development of the French revolution; and, in order to correspond to the perpetual extension of civilization, books must cease to be exclusively French, Italian, German, Spanish, English, to become European, and, still more, human. Hence a new logic of art and certain necessities of composition which modify everything, even the conditions—so narrow in the past—of taste and language, which must now, like everything else, be broadened. From "Victor Hugo on Les Misérables" in the Century.

Dense Population.

Of the world's greatest cities Paris has the greatest number of inhabitants to the acre. For its 2,731,000 inhabitants an area of only 19,275 acres is available, so that each acre has 142 inhabitants. Berlin is almost as thickly populated, inasmuch as its city ground (now almost entirely built up) comprises only 15,568 acres, and in this space 2,034,000 people live, or 131 to the acre. The conditions are considerably better in London, where 4,536,000 people live in an area of 75,370 acres, or 60 to the acre.

Tact in Introductions.

In the least helpful starting a conversation, when presenting people to each other, don't overdo the matter. Leave them as soon as possible. Let them choose their own topics. Each will find the other vastly more interesting under these circumstances. Especially, when introducing anybody of whom you happen to have a high opinion, don't preface the presentation with laudatory remarks. They will invariably silence the most willing talker.

Former Governor Horace Boies, of Iowa, is critically ill at El Paso, Texas. He was taken from a train en route to California, having developed pneumonia.

Muncie, Ind., has been placed under martial law owing to the street car strike. Twelve infantry companies and one battery of the State Guard are now on duty there.

Miss Marjorie Conley, of Louisville, a telephone operator in New York, was last week married to Dr. Perry Wilson, who rescued her from drowning at Atlantic City last summer.

Former Adj. Gen. Henry R. Lawrence has bought the interest of Geo. S. Smith in the Cadiz Record, and he and his brother, John Lawrence, will continue the publication under the firm name of Lawrence Bros.

Circuit Judge J. W. Sandridge, of Russellville, says if it is necessary he will call a special term of the Logan Circuit Court to investigate the night riders' raid on Russellville, but he hardly thinks this is necessary, as the regular term of court convenes the first week in February.

George A. Pettibone and Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with complicity in the murder of former Gov. Frank Steiwer, of Idaho, were set free Saturday. Pettibone was acquitted by the jury and the charge against Moyer was dismissed on motion of the State.

The second trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White began in New York yesterday. There will be a different judge presiding, Justice Victor Dowling. Women will be excluded from the court room and the trial will be up on much less sensational lines than before. Mrs. Thaw will again be the chief witness.

The Cadiz Record thus condemns the interference with negro labor:

"The Record wants to stamp its disapproval of the anonymous letter writing over the country warning the farmers not to employ negro labor during the coming year. We feel that this is more the work of a lot of frivolous and thoughtless boys than it is an attempt in reality to prevent the farmers from employing negro labor, but it is a serious matter and should be stopped. The negro in a great measure is dependent upon his labor for his living. The land owner needs the labor. There is a mutual interest, and he who would bring about trouble along this line is doing himself and his neighbors a great injustice. This thing has gone too far already, and the earlier it is stopped the better it will be for those who have engaged in it. We make these suggestions in the spirit of love and friendship for the laborer and the farmer, and trust they will be accepted as the advice of a friend."

Mr. Allen's Loss.

Mr. G. W. Allen, whose store and dwelling at Garrettsburg were destroyed by fire a few nights ago, estimates his loss at $4,300. He had only $2,000 insurance.

BUYS THROUGH MAIL ORDER

And in Doing So Contributes To ward Capital Concentration in the Big Financial Centers, to His Great Injury.

Lord bless the American farmer. He is one of the nabobs of creation and he hardly knows it. In a single year his work adds to the wealth of the nation more by a hundredfold than all the mines of the country. He gives to the world twice the value in crops and produces than the output of all the factories and mills of the nation produce. He supplies the lubricant to keep the wheels of progress in motion, and if he only knew it could buy and sell a few hundred Rockefeller's, and still have enough left to purchase a few kingdoms as large as Spain. Yet it must be admitted that this great American farmer needs some enlightenment as to common economics. While he is the king of wealth producers, and a lot of it sticks to his fingers, he is also a philanthropist and doesn't know it. He works hard to produce his wealth and then patronizes the machinery that lands a goodly portion of it in the coffers of the Captains of Finance who dictate things in Wall street and elsewhere; in fact he assists the trust magnates to the money required to build up combinations that the good philanthropic farmer is compelled to support. He does it and he knows not that he doeth so. Every time the good tiller of the soil sends away to the big mail order house for his supplies, he does his little toward capital concentration in the great financial centers, and his little mite seeks a resting place among the money held in reserve to feed the wants of the trusts. It is about time western farmers take a tumble to cold facts, and come to a realization that their interests are best subserved by keeping their earnings as close to their homes as possible.

Trade at Home.

Patronage of the big mail order houses is founded largely on short-sightedness. In one way it is akin to patronage of the get-rich-quick schemes. The buyer believes he is getting something for his money that is really not given, and fails to realize either where his money goes or what he gets for it.

No one could think of telephoning to a furniture store and asking the dealer to send up a dozen dining room chairs, without having previously examined the chairs, or of ordering a dress or pair of shoes, or a stove in this way. Yet that is practically what the patron of the mail order house does. He orders by mail without having seen the goods or having any idea of their appearance or character. He is taking a long chance. Two things on which he has to base his conception of the article ordered are the description in the catalogue and the cut given there. In other words, the attractiveness of the offer made depends upon the promises of the firm and the engraver's art. It is possible to make a very creditable cut from a dime and worthless model. It is possible to describe an atrocity in a way that makes it appear most desirable. Incidentally it seems to be always possible to find some one who will accept the promise and cut at their face value, without properly discounting them, and on the credulity of these people the mail order business thrives. A little investigation and comparison will convince the average person that his money will go further and yield greater returns if invested right here in Beverly, despite the fictitious values offered by the outside houses. But the articles sold by the mail order houses must be compared as they really are, and not as they are reported to be in the catalogues—Beverly (Mass.) Times.

Health Board's Report.

To the Honorable Board of Council of Hopkinsville—

Gentlemen—We hereby submit a report of the work done by the health board during 1907 and beg to make some suggestions and recommendations to the council for their consideration during the year 1908. During the year there were reported to the board 61 births, divided as follows: White males, 26; white females, 24; colored males, 5; colored females, 6. As is usual there were few colored births reported, for the reason that there are no physicians in attendance on these cases, therefore no report is received. There were reported 124 deaths, as follows: Male white, 24; female white, 16; male colored, 38; female colored, 46. Contagious diseases reported: Typhoid fever, 33; scarlet fever, 11; measles, 12; tuberculosis, 14; diphtheria, 4. There were 295 nuisance notices served and the nuisances abated; 24 houses were placarded and 56 houses fumigated and disinfected.

There has been so much scarlet fever and is so widely different districts that we have made a strenuous effort to find the origin of the infection but have been unable to find any connection these cases have with each other. In view of the fact that during 1906 we had the same condition of affairs we are forced to the conclusion that the disease had its origin in unsanitary conditions which are known to produce this trouble. The typhoid cases are due to the carelessness of people who have the disease in their homes, to eating unclean food and drinking polluted water, and bad drainage. When we look at the above list of contagious and infectious diseases and remember that they are preventable, it is enough to stagger us and should be enough to awaken the people to the importance of these matters and cause them to give the health board their hearty co-operation and support for be it known, that a health board he it ever so diligent cannot do effective work unaided and alone. It must have the support of the people it would benefit.

In this connection I would call the attention of the council to the importance of looking closely into the question of drainage. Some of the surface sewers are entirely too small and new ones are badly needed in several places. In our report last year we suggested a public market house and again we make the suggestion as being the best method of giving our citizens a pure food supply. The inspection of the meat shops should not be overlooked, the clean meat shops will give us its hearty support and co-operation, and the filthy man is the one we are after. Expecting on the sidewalk is unsightly, unsanitary, tends to spread disease and is otherwise objectionable, and we would endorse an ordinance prohibiting this disgusting practice. All of which is most respectfully submitted.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary—A Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'Try them if you like. I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, and a bottle of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his foot patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Pills, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent visitors of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my home. My father, Jean-Baptiste Renaud, clairvoyant, 277, Montana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

INCENDIARY FIRE

Destroys the Last Business House in Rock Castle.

The general mercantile store of John Hendrick at Rock Castle was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The fire was discovered just before midnight, but had gained such headway that it was impossible to extinguish the flames. Mr. Hendrick closed his store between nine and ten o'clock and went home, and says that there was no fire in the store when he closed up, and the supposition is that the fire was of incendiary origin. The fire evidently started from the back of the building.

The building was an old warehouse on the river bank which Mr. Hendrick had been using as a business house since the fire on the night of Nov. 25th, which destroyed every business house in town, besides several dwellings. He had begun the erection of a store room on the lot where his other business house stood, and would have had it completed within another week.

There was about $3,000 worth of goods in the building, with not a dollar of insurance on it or the building. The postoffice was located in the building and this also burned, including all the mail, mail sacks and office fixtures.

Mr. Hendrick had no insurance on the stock he lost at the November fire, his loss then being in the neighborhood of $2,000, and the additional loss of $3,000.—Record.

MOTHER

Never Recovered From Tragic Death of Daughter.

Rockport, Ky., Jan. 3.—The death of Mrs. Nancy L. Ford, which occurred at Sunnydale after an illness of ten days with pneumonia, recalls the tragic death of her daughter, Miss Prudell Ford, whose untimely death at her own hands shocked this part of Kentucky. Miss Ford was accused of a theft of which she was entirely innocent. Being of a very sensitive nature, she was unable to bear the disgrace, and, after writing a long letter to her sweetheart, she drowned herself in Rough river. The woman who accused Miss Ford of the act has since passed away. The young lady's mother never fully recovered from the shock of the terrible event, which occurred last March.

LOVERS REUNITED.

Were Sweethearts When Civil War Began.

Stanford, Conn., Jan. 3.—Jeremiah O'Meara, aged seventy-two years, and Helen Norton, aged, sixty-five, were married here yesterday afternoon, after a wait of forty years. They were sweethearts when the Civil War broke out and O'Meara enlisted.

When the war was over, he returned, but could find no trace of the girl he had left behind. She believed that he had been killed, but was not able to confirm the belief. Neither ever married, and it was only a short time ago that they found each other after forty years of waiting.

NO INVASION BY PEACE ARMY

Usual Crowd In Town Yesterday But All Was Quiet.

SOLDIERS GET BIG GUN.

Viewed By the Public and Stir Created By Its Presence.

If there were any plans for a gathering of unusual proportions in Hopkinsville yesterday, they did not materialize. Only the ordinary "first Monday" crowd of farmers were on hand. The county committee of the association held its regular monthly meeting in the forenoon. Chairman W. W. Radford presided and most of the country districts were represented. One or two committees reported that they had heard rumors that some association tobacco had been sold outside of the association. Committees were appointed to investigate the truth of the reports. There was no public speaking held and nothing occurred to justify the report that a demonstration was to be made to intimidate the grand jury in investigating the raid of Dec. 7.

Gatling Gun Arrives.

The citizens were surprised yesterday morning to find one of the State Guards' gatling guns in front of soldiers' headquarters on Court Square. Gov. Wilson had sent it down Sunday night with a squad of three men and it was conspicuously displayed as evidence of the Governor's unflinching determination to enforce the law, by peace conferences if possible but by force of arms if necessary.

The gatling gun, bright and shining, was manipulated by the soldiers for the entertainment of the crowds who crowded around to inspect its mechanism. Many had never seen a piece of artillery so formidable before and it was viewed with much interest and admiration by those who soon learned that it was merely a part of the equipment of Co. H and was not to be turned on any but armed enemies in rebellion against the authority of the State of Kentucky. There was much adverse criticism heard from farmers, and there was more heated talk heard on the streets than at any time since the riot of a month ago.

The day was an ideal one and in spite of all the fears of the timid ones that there would be some sort of trouble, it passed off with less than the usual disorder. The new police force all went into office, but even new brooms did not sweep clean enough to make many arrests.

The Grand Jury.

Premature gossip about the grand jury is causing trouble and an effort was made yesterday by Foreman Barnett to find out who is attempting to give publicity to the investigation. It is authoritatively denied that any definite action was taken last week. The investigation has hardly begun.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Madame Merri Helps Many Readers with Practical Suggestions.

For the Fifteenth Wedding Day. Will you kindly send me your suggestions for the fifteenth wedding anniversary? LACKS-PUR.

All of the anniversaries have appeared in the department. Some day we will repeat them. In the meantime send me a self-addressed stamped envelope and I will forward you the required information.

A Farewell Luncheon. I want to entertain for a friend of mine who is going away. I want to entertain about 24 people, and have not a dining room large enough to give a luncheon for so many, so will you please suggest a farewell party to be given in the afternoon. I want quite elaborate refreshments. CODY.

As your dining room is limited as to space you will not serve a luncheon at small tables scattered throughout the room. That is about the only way you could have elaborate refreshments. Have attended some beautiful affairs of this kind.

Another Name for a Shower. A girl friend is very soon to marry and we wish to give her a kitchen shower, but as everyone in this town has gone "showers" and mad and worn the name to frazzles we plan for a new name. We fancy a shower by any other name would be far "sweeter" and so we ask you to kindly suggest some other. PHILLIPS.

My dear, I think it would be just about as difficult to find another name for a wedding as the word "shower" has become inseparable from affairs given for brides-to-be. I fail to think of a substitute.

An Autumn Luncheon. Dear Madam—You have been so kind and helpful to me before will you kindly assist me in planning a luncheon. I want to entertain twelve ladies. My idea is to use autumn leaves. Please tell me some pretty way to use them. B. T. M.

Your idea is a good one. Use the leaves for decorations and scatter over the table cloth. The place cards may be leaf shape, colored with paint or some of the crepe papers come in autumn leaf design. They are lovely when cut out and suspended over the table by invisible thread.

For a Smoker. Please Mme. Merri, send me a form of invitation for a "smoker." What of entertainment is most in vogue. Should it be a game? What sort of refreshments, beverages and decorations should I have?—Marie.

The "smoker" invitations are written in the name of a man for whom the affair is given, with day, date and hour, the word "smoker" in the lower right hand corner. This shows the guests that there will be no ladies present.

As to the game of cards to be played, it depends entirely upon the man and his guests. Of course, at present everything is "bridge," though many play whist, euchre and five hundred. The decorations should be very simple, bowls and vases of nasturtiums, asters, geraniums or carnations. Men are proverbially fond of red carnations.

I should serve a herring or anchovy canape first, potato salad, sandwiches, coffee and chocolate ice cream. The drinks, if you have any, I should leave to the man in the case. He will know just what to have and how to serve it.

Regarding a Book of Entertainments. We have organized a Book club, but have not been featured. We make it more of a social meeting than study and will give you information as to where I could get a book on different ways of entertaining, etc.—J. P. L.

Names of books, authors and publishers or addresses are not permissible in this department. I will be glad to tell you of the book you desire if you will forward me the necessary stamped envelope, self-addressed. I think you will find it just what you need for your club.

A November Wedding Gown. Will you please tell me what to get for a November wedding dress. Something inexpensive in white wool that could be worn all winter and spring. Also how to make it. I am 16 years old and do my own sewing.—Marjorie.

It would seem to me, my dear, that a wedding gown should be the last thing for a 16-year-old girl to be contemplating, but as I do not know the circumstances, I suppose I must judge. White wool challis, brillantes, sarge, and what they call tafetas are all good. This material is much worn all through the winter and as you do your sewing, why not make up an elaborate lingerie gown? MADAME MERRI.

New Millinery Models. The millinery of the moment shows as much eccentricity as at the beginning of the season; the front brim has a tendency to get even narrower. Hats are worn slightly raised and farther back on the head. The recent mode of wearing the mushroom model tilted over the face has disappeared—this style of hat is still worn, but at a different angle, so that, the trimming being all in the front, it now presents a totally different appearance.

LITTLE FLAMING WAY WITH UNCLE BY Copyright 1907 by Byron Williams

The Flaming Way. Recall the sparsely wooded paths, the flaming suns stand. The scarlet sentinels of blood, outposts of Loveland! When frosts have sent their shimmer down, the mimic blushes red And paints the hills for miles around where Autumn hues have bled!

The oak, turned russet-brown and gold, rears backgrounds, rich and deep. The grape draws sap and spurs her leaves to everlasting sleep. The maple takes the purple tint, then oriole and red— But ever brighter, grander far, the sumac lifts her head!

Through rocky dell, beside the lake, or where the road leads on, The deep vermilion of the West, the sumac launches don. The blood of all her race she throws into the Autumn's way And stands triumphant in the wood, the flaming torch of day!

And death the conflagration shed on tracery divine. The lover feels his pulses throb with warm affection's wine— And hard he heart of sweetheart fair that will not grant his love, If he but speak when sumac flames leap up to skies above!

Close in his arms in Loveland, he holds her to his breast— The color of her cheeks and lips bespeak the sumac's crest— And there within the Autumn wood, he wins her heart for aye— With sumac over all the hills and heaven in the sky!

Rhapsodies. The beauty of the heart is deeper than the powder box.

It makes a man feel all cut up to be run over by a train. "You always can trust a poet to show you where you can get the best lunch with a five-cent glass of beer," says the guy. You know you cannot—that is, that kind of a poet.

If the good did not die young, St. Peter would soon run out of material for his angel bands. Sometimes victory merely ruts it in for a man.

Geese do not lay golden eggs, nowadays. Father dies occasionally, however, and leaves a nice nest egg for geese to disaspate.

It is painful to see the football reporter trying to cut in on the baseball game during the closing days of the pennant race.

Once or twice in a man's life he meets a girl to whom he cannot do justice with two arms and, enthusiastic that he is, he wishes he were an octopus with a whole flock of huggers.

One of the foresights of woman is always to make enough baby clothes for twins.

The onion market is a strong one to corner.

Little does the peaceful old cow know, as she browses on the succulent hillside, that she is coming to a boracic acid end.

Over in Palmyra, N. Y., a brick fell out of the proscenium of the local theater and killed an actor. 'Stew bad, but I suppose the accident saved some one from being tried for justifiable murder.

The canned dog should run to the nearest bar and get his can filled. If the season for lies closed with the termination of the fish season, this would be a less strenuous world.

Plenty of Pie. The old lady who distinguished her place by marking them with a "T," signifying "the mine" and "last mine," has been outdone by the culinary expert of a little hotel among the Green Mountains. The chance guest had finished the serious part of a wholesome dinner, when the cook, who was also waitress and landlady, asked him if he didn't want some pie. "What sort of pie have you?" he asked, expectantly. "Well, we've got three kinds," said the hostess, "open-faced, cross-banded and kivered—all apple."—Country Newspaper.

Nature's Faker. There are a couple of old mice around the print shop, and we have been setting traps for them—some of those new-fangled things that await them so quick they never know what hurt them. No result, and we could not tell why, until we happened to see one of the wise old ones lead a new mouse up to the trap and point to a place on it where the fog manufacturer had printed in big, black letters the words, "mouse trap." So much for the educational influence of the press.—Cactus Point.

Mystery Solved. A young fellow living near Ashton brought a watch to Hackett's jewelry store for repair lately. He had purchased the "turkey" from a Chicago catalogue house at a bargain price; couldn't understand why it stopped running. Hackett upon opening the case, found a dead cockroach in the works. Turning to the owner of the timepiece he said: "No wonder the thing wouldn't run, the cockroach's dead." (Reveille III.) Independent.

law will be invoked to instantly suppress disorder, to discover and imprison the cowards who secretly conspired to intimidate the people into obeying mob rule. All these so-called peaceful armies, whether night riders or day riders, are simply taking into their own hands the rule of our people by mob law, and the 'generals' who figure as leaders will figure as chief criminals, and all alike will be found out and punished. The State government will not hesitate nor relent. Mob rule cannot stay in Kentucky, even though it strikes coward-like in the dark and runs and hides. Presently the forces of the State will catch the night riders and the day riders in the act, and the consequences will fall upon the heads of the men whose plots have brought these things to pass.

"AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON, Governor."

NEW KIND OF REWARD.

The Governor immediately notified the Secretary of State that whereas divers wicked and malicious persons whose names are unknown, have plotted and conspired, and are now plotting and conspiring, to gather large bands and mobs of lawless persons in kluksux gangs, although called peaceful armies, to intimidate, to draw up the necessary legal papers "to offer a State reward of $500 for every person who shall be discovered arrested, and convicted anywhere in the counties of Trigg, Caldwell, Lyon, Christian, Logan, Bracken or Mason, through information given in advance of any intended raid, which will enable the county or State authorities to meet the criminals.

"The purpose of this reward is to induce anyone of the many who shall know beforehand of an intended raid, to give warning long enough in advance to enable the authorities to apprehend the raiders. The greatest care will be taken to keep the secret of the informant.

Adjutant General of Kentucky or to the Governor of Kentucky."

The Governor received the following telegram from officials of Logan county:

"Night riders burned two tobacco factories at this place last night, and other property caught from these and was burned. We stand ready to do our full duty in this matter and suggest that you send the Fire Marshal to summon witnesses and make full investigation immediately. No one can so far be found who can identify guilty parties. A special term of Circuit Court will be called as soon as evidence is present to a grand jury can be secured."
"W.P. SANDIDGE, Circuit Judge.
J. W. EDWARDS, County Judge.
T. G. RHEA, Sheriff."

KY. SOCIETY OF EQUITY

Meets Next Thursday at Henderson.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 6.—Next Thursday, January 9, the Kentucky State Union of the American Society of Equity meets in the city of Henderson. From 150 to 200 delegates from all over Kentucky are expected to be present. Assurances are to the effect that the Burley counties will be largely represented. The success of the stemming district association embracing the five counties growing annually thirty million pounds of that type of tobacco known as stripes, namely Henderson, Hopkins, Union, Webster and Crittenden, with headquarters in this city, commands the attention of co-operating farmers all over the State, and they are coming here next week to hold a love feast. Some of the best speakers in the State will be here, and the Hon. A. O. Stanley is down for an address.

To stop that pain in the back, that stiffness of the joints and muscles, take Pineules. They are guaranteed. Don't suffer from rheumatism, backache, kidney trouble, when you get 30 days' treatment for $1.00. A single dose at bedtime proves their merit. Get them to-day. Yes, the streets have been very muddy—and so have the corners of some of the sidewalks. Muddy sidewalk corners are in no way excusable. Prospectors should see that their porters keep the mud scraped from the corners.

If your business is dull, advertise to make it better; if it is good, advertise to make it brisk.

FIRST CASES

In the Police Court for the New Year.

The first cases to appear on the slate at police headquarters for the new year were for house breaking and stealing hides.

For some time the Crescent Milling Company has been missing flour from one of the storage rooms and all efforts to head off the alleged thieves were futile until a few nights since, when two men were found in the room.

They proved to be Dave Poindexter and Sam Morris, two negroes. Some of the employees of the mill pounced down on them and arrested and delivered them to the police. They were sent to jail Monday to await their trial.

Morton McKnight, colored, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by S. Sacks. It is said that McKnight sold three fox skins to Wiley & Haydon. Sacks found out where his missing furs had been sold and had McKnight arrested. After his arrest McKnight swore out a warrant for the arrest of another negro named Clyde Crony, stating that he had bought the fox skins from Crony. The two negroes were sent to jail yesterday morning until the charges against them could be investigated. These were the only cases entered at police headquarters up to yesterday morning.

"I trust this may be read by many sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles," writes Mrs. Joe King, of Woodland, Tex. "I suffered four years and could find nothing to give even temporary relief. Our druggist at last induced me to try your 30 days' treatment of Pineules for $1. This one bottle has cured me and money could not buy the value it has been to me. Guaranteed.
